Next Steps

In an effort to make our books available to more bookstores, we will soon be publishing with IngramSpark as well as Amazon. This should increase our visibility. We are also contacting local bookstores as well. Currently, our books are for sale at Tall Tales Books.

On the Horizon

We are working on a new book about a dragon looking for a new home. Abby is collaborating with her brother, Jack, on the illustrations, combining traditional and digital art. We will keep you posted when it is released!

Abby Bowers was born in Atlanta, Georgia in 1999 where she has spent most of her life. As a child, she was a voracious reader, her favorite series being Percy Jackson, Hunger Games, Warrior Cats, Harry Potter, and The Magic Treehouse. She became interested in theater in elementary school after attending theater camp and enjoyed accompanying her mother to the Fox Theater.

In high school, she participated in just about every play that she was able to. After graduation, she attended the University of Montevallo in Alabama and graduated in 2022 with a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Theater, a minor in Art History, and a concentration in Costume Design.

She moved back to Atlanta and began working for community theaters part-time as a costume designer. Since middle school, she has enjoyed drawing as well, keeping sketchbooks handy at all times. Her love of drawing is equal to her love of costume design, creating art and bringing her imagined creations to fruition. She enjoys telling stories through both her drawings and through her costumes.

She began working with her mother, illustrating children's books, in September 2024. It brings her a little outside her comfort zone, allowing her to grow. She savors conveying the storyline for children, allowing them to enjoy the story more fully.

Looking forward, she would like to continue her work with illustration and costume design, possibly creating her own comic book series one day.
